New York, May 4.—News from Berlin of the failure of Stettin banking house, with liabilities of 1,500,000 marks, about three himsized and fifty thousand dollars, depressed markets and caused London operators to send over selling orders in our stocks. Under the influence of this our stock market opened slightly below Saturday's closing figures, and in the first half hour prices of the leading stocks had declined from 5 to 1 point. Among the more uperficial denizens of the street some uncusivess was apparent and there was some closing out of bull accounts. The justice was called upon to-perform the marriage ceremony between James Redmond and Mary Wright. Redmond is a railroad brakeman and has secured the affections of Mary, who is the daughter of a small farmer who lives on the road west of this place. In addition to winning her affections he piaced her in an unenviable light, and in consequence he promised to marry her before a scandal was caused. To-day was set for the wedding and Mary met James in the depot. He was inclined to postpone the day, but she insisted that he at once accompany her to the justice of the peace and have the knot tied. James went reluctantly, and after telling the jus-tice what was wanted he said that he would return shortly and started for the door. Mary called him to return but he did not heed her and left the office. The girl gave chase and soon returned with the man and the ceremony was hastily performed by the justice. Those who witnessed the chase say that when Mary caught Redmond she drew a revolver and gave him his choice between marriage and death. He chose quickly, and they will spend the honey-moon on the old man's farm.

Knutsford Coercive Bill.

London, May 4 - Lord Kimberly, in the unuse of lords to-day, moved that in view of the assurances which the government and received from New found and delegates had received from Newfoundland delegates that the colony would immediately pass that are which would provide for the enforcement of the treaty stipulations existing between France and Great Britain, the house outlit not to go into committee on the Kautsford correive bill until reasonable time had been given to Newfoundland to pass the necessary legislation.

Lord Kimberly also urged that colonial legislature would not replantate the promises of the delegates, and that therefore the Kautsford bill ought not to be carried any further.

any further.

Lord Knatsford, colonial secretary and framer of the caercice measure mader discussion, refused to accede to Lord Knatsford, calming that the Newfoundhand spession had an imperial character which must be recognized in dealing with it. Lord Knatsford acided, however, that if Newfoundhand would pass the promised measure the bill at present before the imperial houses of parliament would be dropped.

the imperial houses of parliament would be dropped.

Lord Salisbury said that the government had entered into serious international obligations with France, which must be envised out. Under the decisions of Newfoundland's courts the hands of the maxal powers were partly seen. They were not regularly exercising jurisdiction which they had hitherto affected. The oill, he said, was necessary in the event. they had hitherto affected. The oill, he said, was necessary in the event of the failure of an act by the Newfoundland legislature to enforce measures which the Knutsford bill was designed to carry out. After some further discussion Lord Kimberly's motion was rejected 113 to 3. Lord Herschell moved that the Knutsford act continue for only one year. Lord Salisbury opposed the suggestion and it was rejected 61 to 21. The bill then passed the committee stage.

Rome, May 4.—It is decided from motives of economy that Italy will not take an effective part in the Chicago exposition, to which Americans should take no exception, as Italy took no effective part in the French exposition of 1889. It is proposed to suppress ministry of posts and telegraphs. It has withdrawn the offer of the government to aid the proposed celebration of Columbus at Genca. The deficit seems, as yet to be an unknown amount, but the ministry proposes to advise the public at the carliest moment, both of its needs and of all its measures of economy.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 4 .- Another col-Unionfows, Pa., May 4.—Another col-lision has occurred between the coke strik-ers and deputies, the result being one striker dead and one seriously injured. I ast night Superintendent Gray and Pit Boss Callaghan, of Leiscring No. 3, went to house No. 17 to rescue two men, who had been at work and were being held at that house by strikers. They were set upon and stoned and the deputies came to their aid. One of the strikers tried to take a gun from one of the deputies when a shot was fired by the strikers. Superintendent Gray then ordered the deputies to fire and in the volley which followed John Mahan, striker, fell dead, and another, whose name is not known, received a mortal wound. The strikers and two men who were held prisoners were rescued and taken to Leisering
